A New Trial Awaiting Legal Tenders Before the Courts.

WASHINGTON, May 18, 1876.

THE ACTION OF THE OHIO CONVENTION-A VARIETY OF OPINIONS ON THE EFFECT OF THE INFLATION VICTORY-CURIOUS RECORD OF THE BUCKEYE STATE.

The Ohio Convention is the general topic of conversation here to-day. The republicans regard it as a serious blow to the democratic party, and there are democrats who agree with them. Almost everybody acknowledges that it adds an embarrassing factor to the democratic campaign. Some influential democrats agree with the Herald of to-day that it does not nec. would have been in a worse situation than now had he been recommended on such a platform as was adopted at Cincinnati. Others hold that the result of the Ohio Convention strengthens Hendricks very greatly, at the expense of Tilden, Bayard ad Davis, and that if the absurdity of the movement should not kill it, it may enable Hendricks to come into the Convention with Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri nd probably Pennsylvania, over 200 votes, not to speak of scattering additions. To those who hold this view situation looks gloomy, but there are signs of a very determined spirit of opposition to an inflation movement within the party and by many of its most ent and influential members, and the talk of a split, which was frequently heard when, in the beginning of the session, the inflationists were crowing, is now again heard. On the other hand, the inflationists have also picked up courage, and themselves speak of splitting the party ces rather than surrender their ideas.

nator Thurman's ill luck has recalled to old politicians here the fact that Ohio has often treated her set aside by his Ohio rivals; Mr. Chase was beaten in his Presidential plans because his own State was carried against him by rivals, among whom Ben Wade was conspicuous. Wade in turn, when he wished to be Vice President, was pushed aside by Ohio rivals. Pen dleton might have had the nomination at the New York Convention in 1868 had Ohio been faithful to him, and now Pendleton and Allen do their best to Kill off Thur-It is a singular record for the State

LEGAL TENDERS TO BE SUBJECTED TO NEW TEST-THE THEORY THAT THEY ARE A LOAN TO THE GOVERNMENT, AND EVERY IS-SUE MUST BE AUTHORIZED BY SPECIAL ACT, TO BE TRIED BEFORE THE COURTS.

It is proposed to bring the legal tender question to a novel test in the Supreme Court. That Court has decided that Congress has authority under the constitu-tion to make an assue of paper a legal tender. It is ar gued, however, by persons who do not mean to dispute this decision, that such an issue is in fact only a form of public loan. The government needs means; in-stead of borrowing on a bond payable at fixed date, Congress chooses to borrow by issuing obligations not make such a loan accepted it declares it a legal tender; and this the Supreme Court has decided Con gress may constitutionally do. That a legal tender note is a government loan has always been, by implica-tion, acknowledged by Congress itself. The House of Representatives refers all matters relating to such notes to the Ways and Means Committee, while mat-ters relating to national bank notes are sent to the Banking and Currency Committee. It is now proposed to make a case before the Court of Claims, to be appealed eventually to the Supreme Court, in which the plaintiffs will insist that every new issue of legal tenand that a note bearing date, say in 1874, cannot be a legal tender or even legally issued unless Congress to declares it by a special act, on the principle that Congress must specially authorize every separate loan, and that an act to that purpose is strictly applicable only to the special loan it empowers, and cannot be generally applied. If, for instance, Congress author-ized either a bond or a legal tender loan to issue to the nount of $500,000,000, when that amount had been put out the authority must cease, and a further issue re-quires a new act of Congress. Several eminent lawyers who have been consulted upon this question clare the point well taken, and it is understood that a number of gentlemen, chiefly in Boston, have offered

FAIR FOR A TRIAL AND POOR FOR CONVIC-

It is thought to-day that the Senate will decide by a all majority that it has jurisdiction in the Beiknap In that event the trial will go on, and the proofs which the managers have in their possession are, it is said, sufficient to procure a conviction. But it is, after all not, likely that the Senate will convict him when it comes to vote upon its verdict. Those who now believe that the Senate has no proper jurisdiction in the case will probably rejuse to vote for a conviction, even in they are persuaded of Mr. Belknap's guilt. Their ground will be that they have no right to sit in judgment upon him, and that therefore they cannot conscientiously or properly decide guilt. It they choose to be present their number, added to such as may vote not guilty, will, without doubt, be so great as to prevent a two-thirds majority for conviction. Nor is it easy to see why a ilon in the case shall not remain in his seat and defend that ground at the last, for to him the Senate will have no right to sit as a court, and he will think it his duty to use all his power to prevent what he must think an abuse. Hence, even if the trial should go on, t may happen that no matter what proofs of guilt are

BABL DEEBY'S NOTE-IMPRESSIONS REGARDING IT IN WASHINGTON-AN ATTEMPT TO MOVE

The note of Earl Derby in reply to Secretary Fish on The note of Earl Derby in reply to Secretary Fish on the subject of the extradition of Winslow is regarded as an evasion of the able argument of Secretary Fish and as showing a disposition on the part of the British Foreign Office to move the point of issue from where Mr. Fish fixes it so logically and to provoke a fresh and lengthened discussion under cover of the delay attending which the demand of Winslow's counsel for his release from imprisonment may, with a better grace, be acceded to and the blame of a violation of the treaty be made to seem to lie with of a violation of the treaty be made to seem to lie with the United States government. All the revival of reference to the possibilities of a misunderstanding arising out of a hypothetical case, in which the crime ing out of a hypothetical case, in which the crime charged could, by the government asked to surrender a fugitive, be construed to be political, is suggestive of such an interpretation as this of the polley con-trolling Earl Derby and his Ministry. The citing of a case of this which is so unlikely to give as to be irrelevant to the present argument, is perhaps the most significant feature of the weakness of Earl Derby's argument in reply to Secretary Fish. The proposition, too, that the certification of the crime by the United States Secretary of State would override the arraigned was extraditable or not, even so far as to deprive the accused of the privilege of his right under the writ of habeas corpus, is also regarded as a begging of the question which betrays the poverty of the argument. Secretary Fish is constrained to answer the note in a despatch, and thus itself and the negotiations for Winslow's ex-

BACKING HIS OPINIONS. The Tilden forces here are working like beavers to encourage the sentiment for Mr. Tilden as the candidate at St. Louis. Tom Creamer has been reinforced by day. The Tilden propagandists have taken sumptuous quarters at the Arlington, where they pursue at night the canvassing work adjourned from the halls of Congress. Dorsheimer, while chatting with a party of friends to-night, referred to the nomination of Tilden at St. Louis as a certainty, and then offered to bet, in such an event, Tilden would carry the Ohio democrats in the party of listeners. Whatever the motive of the offer Dorsheimer was quickly taken up by a criticising republican, who asked, pithily, "For how much?"

Dorsheimer, whereupon both gentlemen proceeded to the desk of the hotel and drew their checks each for the clerk of the Arlington, who in turn deposited them in the iron safe of the hotel, there to await the ides of November and their surrender to the winner.

A NEW "DARK HORSE" THREATENING THE FIELD AT ST. LOUIS-COMPROMISE PAYNE BUNNING

TO THE FRONT. The latest "dark house" described in the di by the onlookers at the St. Louis race course is Congressman Henry B. Payne, of Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Payne is already known more or less to the country at large as the author of the Payne compromise resolutions in the protracted caucus of the democrats on the currency question. He is very popular at home, having beaten his republican hayes rendes. As his resolutions describe him, he is a one fixed by the Resumption law. He is reputed to be worth $10,000,000, and for this reason is a hard money man to the degree that he does not want his money watered by any inflation of the currency.

GENERAL WASHINGTON DESPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, May 18, 1876. FEDERAL OFFICIALS IN LOUISIANA-THE QUES-TION OF IMMUNITY TO MAJOR SEELYE-THE EFFORTS TO SUPPRESS THE TESTIMONY-IRREGULARITIES DETAILED BY AN EMPLOYE OF THE NEW ORLEANS CUSTOM HOUSE.

The select Committee on Federal Offices in Louisiana held a secret session last night, at which the resolution offered by Mr. Blackburn directing the Chairman to ask the Attorney General for immunity for the witness see the Attorney denoral for immunity lot a winess. Seelye was adopted by a strict party vote. The committee had a secret session to-day, at which the Chairman reported that he had applied to the Attorney General as directed and that officer had requested that the application be made in writing.

The committee then examined G. W. Ferguson, of

New Orleans, an employe in the Custom Rouse at that place, who test'fled that he was employed in the Custom House when he left New Orleans to come here and that his purpose in coming here was to expose some of the irregularities of the Custom House. Mr. Ayre, of New Orleans, met witness at the hotel in this city since he arrived here, and asked witness would injure the republican party in New Orleans.

Ayre also told witness that Mr. Herwig, Deputy Collector at New Orleans, had plenty of money and could bring a hundred witnesses to prove that witness could not be believed under oath; witness replied that could bring a hundred witnesses to prove that witness could not be believed under oath; witness replied that he did not think that could be done, and witness received the impression that Ayre was here to arrest some of the witnesses who might testify before this committee, as Ayre is deputy marshal and brother-inlaw of Marshal Packard; witness did not obtain leave of absence when he came here, and told Ayre that he expected to have his head cut out the list of the month; Ayre replied that he would do it if he was in their place at the Custom House.

Q. Now, tell us what you know about any frauds?
Witness said he was employed in the sugar room in the Custom House is 1875, when twelve cases purporting to contain guara jelly, were received at the Custom House consigned to a man named Huaard, and the cases were taken to the store of Mr. Massoh; one big box only contained jelly, and the other eleven contained eigars; the case containing jelly was opened in the presence of witness and other laborers, and they were then told that there was no more work to be done that day, and they went away; witness secretly returned and saw the jelly box opened, but he privately opened some of the other boxes and found they contained cigars; the cases contained 11,000 cigars, and the fraud consisted in entering them as jelly; the duty on the cigars was $2.50 per pound, twenty-five per cent ad valorem duty and the internal revenue stamps; on the jelly the duty was ten per cont. The loss to the government amounted to quite a sum, which the witness was not able to submit till to-morrow.

Governor Kellogg, of Louisiana, remains here and has been running for two days anxiously to the Attorney General and the President trying to persuade them to order the use of federal troops in the State. He tells fearful tales of outrages and reinforces them by private telegraphic despatches describing bloody scenes, but he is not believed to be meeting with much success. The President and Attorney General have so far declined to grant his request and he has been told that whatever is done by

THE PEDERAL POWER must be done in the manner prescribed by the con-stitution. This seems to be a hist to him that if there are such grave disorders in the State as he asserts he where he would be able to see for himself and to command if necessary the use of the State forces, of which he is Commander in Chief, and which, under the Louisiana constitution, he has full power to use if necessary sary for the maintenance of peace or the restoration of order. This last Southern outrage has been

A COMPLETE PAILURE here. Nobody has got excited over it except Kellogg, and here. Nobody has got diction over recomplicants, as well as there is a suspicion among republicant, as well as democrats, that it is mainly, if not altogether, a political trick of the Louisiana republican ring, whose members are in desperate straits, because a promising effort is making down there to either reform the republican party, headed by honest and substantial citizons, which would leave the republican ring high and dry and without a chance of further plunder. How far Governor Kellogg, with the help of Messra. Casey and Packard, may be able, by persistent effort, to work upon

There is an impression that the people of the North do not regard with favor the continual use of federal troops by Gov-ernors of Southern States, because there have been of such interference. A prominent republican said to-day that if Governor Kellogg would go to his post of duty and do what he swore to do when he assumed the Governorship he would think better of him, and he suspected there would, in that case, be no more talk about the necessity for federal interference.

Andrew Jeger, American Nationer.

The dinner was served in a most elegant style. The tables being cleared, Mr. Willy Wallach, the president rose and gave a brief story relative to the association. He said it was composed of the wholesale and retail stationers in New York city, but its object was not to create a monopoly, but to promote the common wel-fare and interests of the trade and to bring the memfare and interests of the trade and to bring the members of the trade together. He spoke in opposition to long credits, and concluded by proposing the first toast, as follows:—
"The Prosperity of the Stationers' Board of Trade and the Good Health and Happiness of Our Honored Guests and Members."
This was responded to by Mr. A. D. F. Randolph, who congratulated the association upon its organization.
